Events aimed at promoting the use of existing skate parks across the UK

King ramps – Who we are

Set up in 2006, by then pro skater Pete King, King Ramps has grown to be the UK's leading wheeled sports events company.

We specialise in hosting events aimed at promoting the use of existing skate parks to promote positive hobbies for young people.

We have hosted numerous wheeled sports events across the U.K working with various councils and youth organisations, as well as at existing skate parks, or on our mobile ramps and skate parks.

Wheeled sports are great activities to promote to young people as they provide great exercise, promote a healthy lifestyle and teach broader life skills such as appreciation and cooperation.

Having been involved with some of Europe's biggest events and worked with numerous leading brands, councils and skate parks, King Ramps has both the experience and understanding to ensure any event or project is a success.

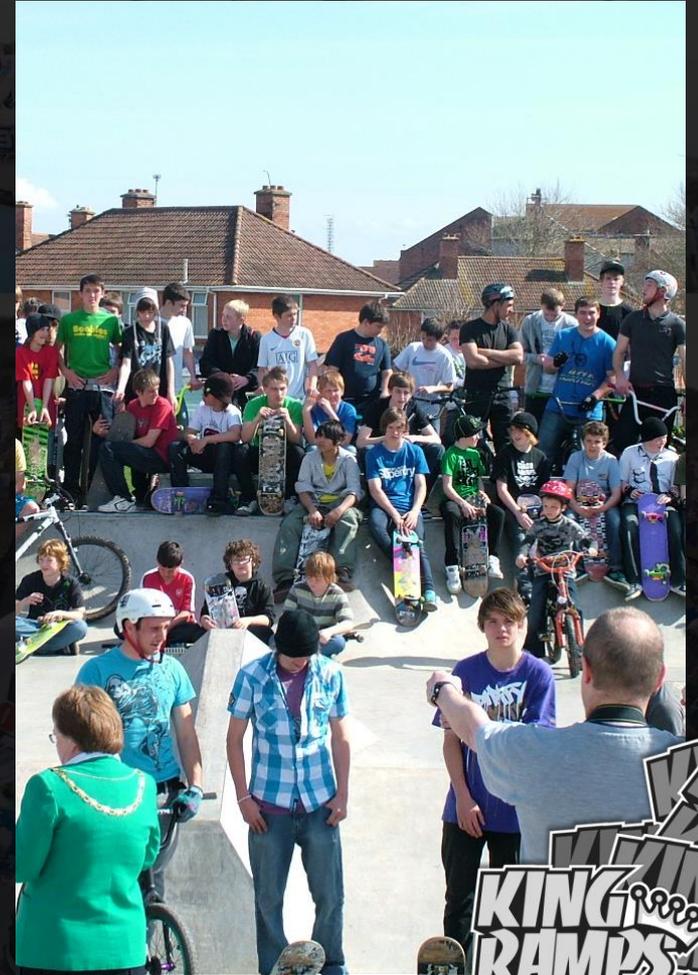

Skate Park Community Events

With many councils already having wheeled sports facilities, King Ramps specialise in hosting 'Skate Park Awareness Days' aimed at promoting the use of these existing skate parks across the U.K. Providing an inspiring fun day for local young people.

What we provide within one of our one day skate park events:

- We bring a team of the countries top professionals to perform demonstrations throughout the day. 3 x 20 minute shows. Our MC communicates with the crowds and participants throughout the day. We are experienced with making our events fun as well as orderly and structured.
- We run competitions for the local skate park users judged by our pro's including prize-giving. We provide a range of prizes.
- We run workshops hosted by our pro's. All are welcome to take part and we provide full safety gear and skateboards. Our workshops always prove popular.

These awareness days have proved a great success with numerous councils nationwide and guarantee a low cost event that will help promote the use of existing facilities and encourage local young people to take up positive hobbies. Which we believe helps combat anti-social behaviour.

Why Skateboarding & BMX?

Skateboarding and BMX riding appeal to young people, providing an alternative option to the traditional sports. Being sports for the individual, with less of a focus on rules and competition, children are encouraged to progress at their own pace, which is often appealing to those who are uninterested or put off by competitive and team sports.

They are inexpensive sports with little equipment necessary, and do not require any specific clothing, only trainers. These factors make these sports accessible to some of the more hard to reach young people.

There has also been a steady rise in female participation of wheeled sports over the past few years that's showing no signs of slowing down with girl only nights at many of the U.K's indoor skate parks and female competitions.
